It includes such classifications as registered nurse, nurse practitioner, licensed vocational nurse, medical assistant, pharmacist, health educator, radiologic technician, physical therapist, athletic trainer, speech pathologist, physician's assistant, and clinical lab scientist.

Operations Support: Our Bargaining Unit 5 provides operations support to the students on our CSU campuses and has approximately 2,050 employees. It includes such classifications as custodian, groundsworker, irrigation specialist, gardener, laborer, cook, food service worker, and warehouse worker.

Administrative Support: Our Bargaining Unit 7 provides administrative and clerical support to the students on our CSU campuses and has approximately 5,200 employees. It includes such classifications as administrative support coordinator, payroll technician, stock clerk, parking officer, police dispatcher, buyer, collections representative, account clerk, and graphic specialist.

Technical Support: Our Bargaining Unit 9 provides technical support to the students on our CSU campuses and has approximately 7,350 employees. It includes such classifications as information technology consultant, network and server analysts, programmers, administrative analyst/specialist, equipment technician, accountant, instructional support technician, interpreter, real-time captioner, network analyst, research technician, laboratory assistant, performing arts technician, public affairs/communications specialist, library services specialist, and livestock technician.

Bargaining Unit 13 consists of approximately 15 CSUEU-represented English Language Program instructors at CSU Los Angeles. CSUEU representation began with member ratification of the tentative agreement in late 2010, after nearly four years of deliberations. The working conditions of these instructors are different enough from those of faculty to warrant CSUEU's representation.
