

Our working conditions are the student's learning conditions.

Dear CSU employees:

When they pile on the work...

The contract is still the law, budget crisis or not. It says...

- Your job evaluation should not suffer due to your workload.
- Student workers are not allowed to take bargaining unit jobs away.
- The majority of your duties should be within your job classification.

Your union's advice in these hard times is...

- Always act professionally, never insubordinately. Call a steward.
- Revise your job description to include all assigned tasks.
(To be used later to upgrade your job classification.)
- Do not work unpaid time! The university has no right to require this.
- Take your breaks and lunch! You will be more productive when you are working.
- Go home on time. Take care of yourself and your family!

California State University Employees Union

California State Employees Association • Service Employees International Union, Local 2579